Basillia aims to bring certified organic farm food to the kitchen, and turn the kitchen into your own “Kitchen Pharmacy”. It offers organic products in nature and it is a means to support the growth of Indian Farmers.

- Offering a wide range of 180+ products
- Promoting ‘farmers’ produce’ by retailing ‘Make in India’ products
- Ensuring affordable pricing making organic accessible for everyone

Bulk Export

We specialise in bulk trade and exports. The hardcore expertise lies in managing the supply chain directly from farmlands to packaged products. We have clients across Europe, Australia and the United States of America.

Why Basillia?

Integrated Farming Practices and highest quality produce

Our team monitors the farms right from sowing to harvesting the produce; thereafter putting it through our state-of-art cleaning, sorting, grading and cleaning facility. Our machineries like destoner machine, Sortex machine and Cocoon fumigation only process 100% Organic foods. We cater to retail and wholesale markets.

Extremely cost effective pricing in bulk

At Basillia, our aim to provide the best-in-class quality products at reasonable prices. Our strategic sourcing through our own farmer nexus, processing through our own state-of-the-art facility and packed in our own packaging machines according to customer requirements help us offer one of the most competitive pricing along with the highest quality in the industry.

Packaging

Basillia uses one of the most advanced technologies and machinery for our packaging operations. We use automated and semi-automated packaging lines thereby reducing manual interventions. We offer all sorts of packaging varieties like center-seal pouches, stand-up pouches, boxes, and gunny bags. Natural Processing Process all foods using 100% organic methods like natural fumigation, natural preservation by using natural elements: 'Neem'.

Entire end to end supply chain

Our hardcore expertise lies in managing the supply chain directly from farmlands to packaged products. Basillia is connected to 3000+ Farmers and gets highest quality produce through contract-farming, internal cluster systems etc. We provide the farmer's seeds based on the market demand and help them grow it organically with the usage of bio- natural pesticides. In return we give them the purchase assurance. Basillia helps them harvest the produce, then at a later stage, we process and pack it in our own facility.
